- V56 7003 INTEREST DEDUCTION

- Questions occurring in om
- 78b. Owners of single family houses or cottages obtain a fiscal relief on their houses. This is due to the fact that the expenses of interest can be deducted on the tax return. The value of the house, however, must be stated as an income. The value of the house is fixed very low in proportion of the expense of interest, so that a deficit of the house can be deducted from the income taxable. Do you think this is reasonable or not reasonable?
